BY TELEGRAPH.

[FROM OUR SUNDAY'S EDITION.]

NEW YORK, November 28.—Early yesterday morning Wm. Arkansaw, keeper of a bagnio in Green street, having some difficulty with Wm. Hall, who is a barkeeper for a similar establishment just opposite, procured a shotgun and shot his enemy in the arm, completely lacerating it. Arkansaw was arrested and committed.

Schuyler Colfax, Vice-President elect, is now sojourning in this city. He spent Thanksgiving Day in Brooklyn, the guest of Benj. W. Delamater, and in the evening an entertainment was given in honor of the Speaker and his wife, by a large number of prominent citizens, at which Mr. Colfax received many congratulations on the two late events of his life, viz: his marriage with Miss Wade and his election to the Vice-Presidency.

A correspondent had a conversation with Congressman Boutwell, who, in answer to inquiries, stated that he should advocate the exaction of more stringent measures of reconstruction in Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, than had been required from the other States. He believed that specie payments can be hastened only by advancing prosperity, and not by legislation. As to the suffrage question, he was of the opinion that Congress had the power to declare who may vote for Presidential Electors, Senators and Congressmen, if not the power to regulate the entire question of suffrage in the States.

The Democratic Union Executive Committee, at Masonic Hall last evening, nominated Frederick A. Conklin for Mayor, and Richard O'Gorman for Corporation Counsel, in place of Judge Kelly and Abraham P. Lawrence, declined. The Constitutional Union Convention also nominated Mr Conklin.

The Times' Poughkeepsie dispatch says it has now been ascertained that the victim of the recent roadside murder is Mrs. Smith, wife of Jacob Smith, of Wurtzborough, Sullivan county. Smith started from home on Saturday at 1 p.m. in a one-horse wagon, with his wife, saying he was going to take her to Olive, Ulster county, to visit her daughter, who, he professed to her, was badly hurt, and wished her immediate presence. He returned to Wurtzborough on Sunday, stating that his horse had given out and that he had sent his wife on to his daughter's by a chance ride, and came back for the children, to take them to the same place. He left again on Tuesday with the children. After he left his house was entered by citizens, who found that he carried off everything in the house except an old trunk, which was opened, and in it was found a remnant of a piece of goods which is exactly similar to the dress found on the murdered woman. Since Smith left with the children, nothing has been definitely heard of them. The children were those of his wife by a former husband.

The Herald's Washington special says the terms of the protocol now in the hands of President Johnson, are in general as our Washington correspondent stated recently, except that the number of commissioners is to be four instead of two, who are to be appointed by each side. Each one of the Alabama claims must be decided unanimously, or referred to an arbitration. The Government considers that this protocol is equivalent to a concession on the part of England that her conduct in recognizing the rebels as belligerents shall be passed on as a matter for arbitration.

It is said that the forthcoming Public Debt statement will show an increase of about $11,000,000, which will be chiefly due to the reduction of cash in the Treasury, which was paid out during the month on account of coin interest.

Judges Nelson and Blatchford have disagreed on the legal points involved in the Rosenburg naturalization case, and the questions are to be submitted to the United States Supreme Court next term.

Judge Nelson to-day granted an order requiring the plaintiffs and defendants to show cause on Monday why the order of Judge Blatchford, appointing Jay Gould Receiver, shall not be vacated. The full argument will be heard that day, while the Judge will also decide the question why Aug. Belmont can be made a party to the suit in the United States Court.

Various rumors are afloat relative to the Erie questions, among them one that an injunction has been granted upon both Receivers, which is probably incorrect.

Judge Cardoza has issued an injunction restraining Judge Davis from acting as Receiver, while the report as to Jay Gould seems to be founded on the action of Judge Nelson as above stated. Another report was that the Legislature will finally settle the whole matter by passing some new acts. The Legislature does not meet for some time, and this is at least premature. Quiet now reigns at Erie headquarters, which were wide open to-day, and Mr. Gould, in reply to an inquiry, said that everything was going on as usual; that he was attending to the business of the office; that Mr. Davis cannot act, he is so bound with stays, and, in his (Gould) opinion, does not propose to act. Mr. Davis was in the office about five minutes last week, but not since.

O'Baldwin was arrested to-day, by order of Judge Dowling, in consequence of the death of his bail-bondsman, Felix Larkin, and being unable to procure another bond for $10,000 to keep the peace, was committed to the Tombs.

At the inquest on Larkin, which commenced to-day, the crowd was so great that the Coroner was obliged to hold it in the Council room.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says that Garibaldi is about to leave his home and emigrate to America. This conclusion has been arrived at in consequence of the reproaches of Mazzini and his friends, consequent on the General's failure in the Roman insurrection last year.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, November 28.—The amount of fractional currency printed this week is $402,000; shipments, $404,589; amount redeemed, $299,000. National bank currency issued for the week $159,680. Total circulation $3 106 558 76 Custom receipts for week ending 21st inst., $32,228,893.

The Librarian of Congress has caused to be placed in the rotunda of the Capitol a statue of Alexander Hamilton, heroic size, executed in Italy by Horatio Stone, of this city, and made on an order of Congress.

Gen. Spinner's annual report shows his covering warrants to have been $10 098, and for the payment of $30,222.

Under a recent circular from the Treasury Department, requiring Financial Agents to send in for redemption certain descriptions of legal tender notes a very large amount has been received.

The Secretary of the Treasury's financial report will show an expenditure on the public debt account of $848,560,000, which includes the conversions into customs, public debt, etc.

HAVANA.

HAVANA, November 28.—The shares of the Spanish Bank have declined 33 per cent., and those of the Commercial Bank to 80 per cent. discount.

The first battalion of volunteers, 800 strong, leave to-merrow for the seat of war.

It is reported that the insurrectionists have burned the plantation of Col Acosta, commanding a battalion of volunteers; and also that Gen. Espedes, of the insurrectionists, had had three men executed, who were caught robbing and committing incendiarism.

Espedes, previous to the attack and repulse at Massalino, recommended that the women and children should leave the town.

The confidence of the people in Captain-General Lersundi and a speedy termination of the war is increasing.

Another battalion of volunteers will march to Holguen during the coming week.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, November 28.—In the United States District Court yesterday, the District Attorney informed the court that Chief Justice Chase had dispensed with the test oath for jurors, and moved that the same rule be adopted for the United States District Court of Louisiana, and Judge Dorell then ordered the oath to be administered as required before the war.

There was a large attendance at the opening race over the Metairie course today. The first race was a dash of a mile and a half, to carry 100 pounds, for a purse of $400. There were three entries. The race was won by Bismarck, beating Warwick's ch. horse by Bleakwind, and Tom Green. Time, 3:02½.

In the State Post Stake, three mile heats, $2500 entrance, Alabama enters Bayonet; Missouri, Sundown; and Louisiana, Gilroy. The following is the summary: Bayonet, 1, 2, 1; Gilroy, 2, 1, 2; Sundown, 3, 3, 3. Time, 6:20, 6:14, and 6:24½.

The weather was fine, cool and bracing. The track was very heavy. Prominent turfmen were present from all sections. The betting was all one way, Bayonet being the favorite and Sundown selling second in the pools.

FOREIGN.

BERLIN, November 28.—The Deputies from Schleswig have been denied seats in the Diet until they swear allegiance.

PARIS, November 28.—The present Moniteur newspaper loses its official character on New Year's day, Le Moniteur official De l'Empire will then appear.

The publisher of the Little Progress newspaper has been fined 500 francs and sentenced to one month's imprisonment for publishing a list of the subscriptions for the proposed movement of M. Baudin cemetery of Mont Marice.

The Patrie says the corps legislatiff will meet on the 4th January next.

The Patrie of yesterday says there is a faction in Spain who favor the formation of a Triumvirate for five years.

LONDON, November 28.—The Times of to-day gives the Liberals 381 members in the House.

Great preparations are being made at Birmingham for the reception of Reverdy Johnson, on Wednesday next. John Bright and others will speak. At the dinner, which was contemplated by the Workingmen's Society of this city to Mr. Johnson, has been abandoned.

Benjamin D'Israeli has declined the Peerage. His wife has been created Viscountess of Broomfield.

VIENNA, November 28.—An American vessel with arms on board, designed for the use of the Wallachians, passed up the Danube a day or two since.

Reinforcements have been sent by the Porte to the Province of Belgravia to quell the disorders there.

The press unite in commending D'Israeli's refusal of the Peerage, and its bestowage on his wife. The journals also eulogize the career of the Premier.

MADRID, November 28.—The Government has declared that the popular sense of the country is antagonistical to the establishment of a Republic, and that the Cortez soon to meet will surely propose a form of monarchy.

Passage has gone to Paris. There have been many Republican demonstrations throughout Spain within a few days.

FLORENCE, November 28.—Quite a serious outbreak has occurred at Bologna and new troubles are feared. The disturbance originated through a refusal of the peasants to pay their taxes. Ten persons had been killed and several badly wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28.—Advices from Mexico state that Alvarez, the Governor of Querrero, had appropriated the money in the Custom House of Acapulco to his private use, and complaint had been made to the General Government of the same.

Frightful murders and assassinations are daily committed in the neighborhood of Monezillo and Columbia.

Gen. Losado publishes a statement that it is not his intention to commence war against the Federal Government, although he possesses the means to carry a war to a successful end.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

ST. JOHNS, November 28.—The land lines throughout this Province, connecting with the Atlantic Cable at Heart's Content, were yesterday prostrated by a heavy snow storm, and are still down. No European financial or commercial news of yesterday has yet been received. The wires will probably be repaired before the close of the day.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, November 28.—Senator Stewart and family, from Nevada, arrived at Salt Lake on Thursday, en route to Washington. He reports the Central Pacific Railroad completed 435 miles east of Sacramento, and a gap of only 400 miles between that Road and the Union Pacific Road.

GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, GA., November 28.—Gen. Sweeney, with two companies of the 45th Infantry, arrived here this morning, and will remain until after the municipal election next Wednesday.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

SCHENECTADY, November 28.—The ticket office of the New York Central Railroad, in this city, was broken into by burglars last night. The safe was opened with keys, and about $8000 in money taken out. There is no clue to the burglars.

CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, O., November 28.—The steamer Boston is reported as having been sunk in Lake Michigan by the steamer Milwaukee. Both are of the Northern Transfer Company. No lives lost.

—A Presbytery out West proposes to help no secret society man to the ministry. How about Storrs, Thompson, Huntingdon, Beecher, etc?

—Mr. Seward, it is said, has issued an order that in all communications hereafter issued from the State Department, the title of "Hon." shall be ignored. The term has grown into such disrepute by indiscriminate use as to have insured its bestowal on negro officials—the crowning act to stamp it as an unmitigated nuisance.

—The conscription in Poland this year, it is asserted, will furnish only a small quota of troops to the Russian army. In 1863 the resistance to the draft produced a violent insurrection, but at present the conscripts are endeavoring to escape from the country, and the German ports, in particular Hamburg, are filled with crowds of Polish peasants, having barely sufficient money for the purpose, seeking to emigrate to the United States. Twenty thousand soldiers were drawn from Poland, and fully one-half of these, it is reported, have deserted.

MARITAL.—The following certificates were returned last week at the office of the County Clerk: A. V. Hamner and Maggie W. Stock; D. J. Oliver and Eda Wolf; E. L. J. D. Roberts and Mary Humphries; Bernard Schurff and Henrietta Myers; Louis Kuey and Mollie A. Hein; Patrick Murphy and Mary Mahoney; Haynes E Hudson and Marian B. Merritt; Mitchell Hubbard and S. J. New; John Simpson and S. M. Glasscock; W. T. Prichard and Fannie E. Blackburn.

—Mr. Farney, one of the editors of the London Orchestra, is in this country to secure copyrights of Offenbach's music

—Whisky was Sheriff of Chicago last year. The Sheriff of Chicago was Gen. Beveridge, and the general beverage of Chicago is Whisky. Ergo, Whisky was Sheriff.

—A Boston paper says of Mrs. Scott-Siddons, that "as far as personal pulchritude is concerned, the lady is an indubitable success."

—Prof. Newcomb has secured at the Sandwich Islands a very fine collection of shells for the Cornell University, and is on his way home.

—An operatic Cantata, in two parts, entitled the "Haymakers," is now in rehearsal by the amateur singers of Crawfordsville, Ind.

—The Boston Handel and Hayden Society holds its regular rehearsals at Bumstead Hall, Mr. Carl Zerrahn, the Conductor, having resumed his duties.

—Indianapolis has found a drown-dead body, and there are already six claimants for it. The question is, who is the soul owner?

—The Calcutta orchestra—five fiddles and a piano—is rivaled by that at Buenos Ayres—a piano, clarionet, violin and trumpet.

—Alphonse Karr wittily said, touching the abolition of capital punishment for murder: "By all means; only let messieurs the murderers give the example, and cease to execute us."

—Judge Taney regularly read every article in the National Intelligencer, the Globe, the Edinburg, North British, Quarterly and Westminster Reviews, and the London Times.

—The Rev. J. Purchas, of St. James Chapel, Brighton, recently celebrated, with a foolish ritualistic parade, the "Harvest Festival," and was inhibited by his bishop.

—A son of Rev. Mr. Maxie, of Hancock county, Ky., while opossum hunting, a few nights ago, fell from the top of a tree, which he was climbing, and received a severe injury of the skull, from the effects of which he has since died.

—The Boston Handel and Hayden Society announce two oratories at the Music Hall Thanksgiving week. Handel's "Judas Maccabeus" Saturday evening, 28th inst., and Mendelssohn's "Elijah" on Sunday.

—The project of tunnelling the East river between New York and Brooklyn, it is stated, will be vigorously carried out, and plans for laying down an iron tube between the two cities will soon be advertised for by the company, which was incorporated for the purpose last winter.

—A new cattle disease has recently made its appearance in England, and is said to be caused by the swine feeding too largely on acorns and horse chesnuts. Post mortem examinations show that the blood is disorganized. The symptoms are dullness, ending in extreme prostration, loss of appetite, small and frequent evacuations, colorless urine, discolored and ulcerated membranes, and a weak but not rapid pulse.

—The Right Rev. Henry C. Lay has been elected Bishop of the new Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Easton, Md. The Convention was held on Friday last, the 20th inst., and the vote was as follows: Clerical vote fourteen for Bishop Lay, and six for Dr. Pinckney; Laymen's vote twenty for Bishop Lay, and eight for Dr. Pinckney. At the time of his election to this new diocese Bishop Lay was Missionary Bishop of the Diocese of Arkansas.

—Henry Ward Beecher went to Boston the other day, and returning he told his people, at a Friday evening prayer meeting, that the religion of Boston is as cold as ice. In answer to a question how he accounted for the frigid theology of the Bay State, Mr. Beecher said it originated in the dead Orthodoxy of a former age. If the Puritan fathers had preached Christ instead of Calvanism, the men who deny the divinity of the Savior would not now be in power in New England.

—An American machinist is reported to have been sentenced in Brazil to an imprisonment for ten years, after conviction of a murder committed in Rio by a desperado from the United States. After the offense was perpetrated, the Brazilian police arrested on suspicion all the American emigrants they could lay their hands upon. This unfortunate victim, it is asserted, was acquitted twice, but on the third trial he was convicted, and is now suffering the penalty for a crime of which he is innocent.

—William Sydney Mount, a popular American art st, died at Setauket, L. I., on November 19-h, in the sixty-third year of his age. Mount was quite celebrated for his rural groups, which, having been copied and widely circulated in colored lithographs, made his name known, both at home and abroad. Of his rural groups, the best and most popular are "The Farmer's Nooning," "Raffle for a Goose," "The Power of Music," "The Banjo Player," "Mutual Respect," and some others. Mr. Mount, of late years, has painted very little, and developed the singular eccentricity of constructing a building upon wheels, called his portable studio, which he (occupying the interior) moved from point to point by horse power.

—The Provisional Government of Spain, during the short time it has been in office, has succeeded in obtaining a more exact account of the state of the treasury than any that has been published under the monarchy for years. The ordinary revenue is about $89 000 000; the ordinary expenditure, $106,000 000; leaving an annual deficit of some $17,000,000. The debt is more than $1,000,000,000. It is asserted that the estates of the Crown and of the Church, available for the public purposes, will meet all the extraordinary demands for the present, and that an honest administration of the treasury, with some improvements in taxation, will bring up the revenue to $120,000 000 at least. The Spanish bonds advanced a little in Madrid on the publication of this report.

THE GREAT ERADICATOR'S LATEST.

Wendell Phillips on the Situation.

From the Anti Slavery Standard.]

AHEAD.

Some Republicans imagine that the great battle has been fought. We think there has been only a skirmish for position. The two armies have measured their swords in a struggle for the best position on the field. The Republicans have succeeded and hold the point of vantage, that is the government.

To-morrow comes the fight. Whether "to-morrow" means the next two years or 1872, no one can tell. In numbers the armies are about equal. It is most alarming to see that, with a mobocrat rebel, like Seymour for candidate, and a platform dictated by Forrest and Wade Hampton, the Democratic vote was not 300 000 less than the Republican, in a mass of 4,000,000 votes; the Republican majority being about six per cent. of the whole vote. With such an enormous minority gravitating toward rebeldom, the future of the country is critical. It is idle to suppose that such a state of affairs will not have a large influence on a man like Grant. When we know who are to compose his Cabinet, we can divine something of his policy. We have no fear that he will give us a Democratic cabinet. We have no expectation that he will give us a Radical one; the most that we dare to hope is that he will execute the laws impartially, and thus give opportunity for the great civilizing forces of the age to enter the South and remould it. * * * *

We see, therefore, with great encouragement, a movement in several different quarters to submit a constitutional amendment obliging all the States to make suffrage impartial in relation to national offices. We would have it so in regard to all offices, State as well as national. The amendment to the Constitution should provide that no State should make any distinction among its citizens in regard to civil or political rights or privileges, the right to suffrage or to eligibility to office, on account of race, color, or previous condition. The Constitution will not be perfect till sex also is included in this last enumeration.

Some journals have stigmatized the discussion of the finance question as premature. We shared in this mistake a while ago. But there never will be any industrial or commercial activity here until the capital of the nation is free to engage in such efforts. While the Government borrows $2,000,000,000 at a better rate of interest than business speculators are likely to pay, there will be no activity in business. In a healthy condition Government should pay only 4 or 5 per cent., just enough to attract sluggish capital; that of women, children, savings banks, and retired old men—classes which aim at safety, not great dividends. The moment Government attracts, by its large interest, the funds of active men, it is the fee and nightmare of business.

The first aim of our financiers, therefore, should be to reduce the interest on the debt. Let the Government pay $120 if necessary, to buy back a Government bond of $100. Only let the interest in the bond be 4 per cent. It is not the amount of the debt that kills business; it is the high rate of interest. This is the first principle to be kept in view. The second is, let not labor be called on to pay one dollar of the debt. Labor has paid its share of the national expenses in blood and toil. The man who gave five years in the field, he who came home a cripple; the wife who gave her husband for five years, and whose brother was starved at Andersonville or Libby prison, all these have paid enough towards saving the nation. The capital which their blood saved, and which had been half worthless but for their valor, should pay all the debt. Tax every man who owns more than 300 acres at a rate doubling and trebling for each additional 300; tax every man who has more than $100,000 at a rate doubling and quadrupling for every additional $100,000 until the treasury bursts with the means to clear off the debt in twenty years.

Pay the debt in coin; not because we are legally bound, but because it has been so understood. Honorable dealing is economy. Buy by one decisive movement buy it all up at any price and reduce the interest, so as to save business from this incubus. No bondholder will reluct or be obstinate, while repudiation is whispered in the pots of parties. And the nation, in all its interests, will easier bear a debt of $8 000,000,000 at 4 per cent. than $1,000 000,000 or $2,000,000,000 at, practically, 9 per cent.

What has given the Democratic party its hold on the people is that its leaders have felt, not seen, these two principles. In the blind and hasty struggle to reach them they planned payment in paper and taxing the bonds,—poor, wicked methods,—but still they were blundering efforts to reach good results. To content the people and help the nation, we must inaugurate these principles. To save our honor we must apply them rightly. Pay in coin; but by one act buy up the debt and reissue it at four per cent. Find the means to do so by taxing capital. Be sure you ask of labor only the means to meet the current and ordinary expenses of Government.

Thus we may remove the most perilous element from politics, and disarm the Democratic party. Thus we leave the field clear for the special work of this epoch,—the reconstruction of our Government, free from the elements of race or sex.

INTERESTING TO BAPTISTS.

Inauguration of the American Baptist Book Depository.

From the St. Louis Democrat, 24th.]

Last night a number of Baptist ministers and others met at No. 209 North Sixth street, to inaugurate the establishment of a branch of the American Baptist Publication Society Depository. The rooms are handsomely fitted up and well stocked with religious books, embracing the selected publications of different establishments in the East. The depository is in charge of Rev. G. J. Johnson, who has had many years' experience in the business, and appears to be peculiarly adapted for the work. The publication house in Philadelphia has been in existence for about forty years, but until the present year has not established branches. Now there are branches in New York, St. Louis and other cities.

The field for the branch here embraces Missouri, Iowa, Southern Illinois, Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Dacotah, Colorado and Wyoming. Colporteurs will be sent out over this large district, and Sunday schools will be supplied with books at very low rates. Stationery and Sunday school furniture will also be supplied.

In this city there are six Baptist churches, and the population of Baptist proclivities numbers about two thousand souls.

The meeting last night was called to order by Rev. Dr. Burlingham, who nominated Judge Marshall Brotherton as chairman.

The proceedings were opened with a prayer by Rev. Dr. Bleek, of Park avenue church.

Mr. Johnson, the host, was then called and made a few remarks. He acknowledged his indebtedness to the enterprising Baptists of the city for their liberality in aiding the establishment of the depository. A little more than nineteen years ago he visited St. Louis, and met Rev. J. M. Peck, whose whole mind was filled with the importance of the work of the Baptist Tract Society, and received from him his first ideas and knowledge of that society. He then became impressed with the importance of the diffusion of religious literature.

After laboring in that field for some years he was about to retire, when he learned of the intention to establish a branch in St. Louis, and he consented to serve for another term of years. He expressed his gratitude for the noble part which the brethren in St. Louis had borne in establishing this branch. St Louis is to be the center of the wide region over which the work is to be carried on in the center of the colporteur work and the Sunday School work. He then pointed to the names of the publishing establishments over the bookshelves, and said the works were all Baptist. This branch will do good in spreading the truth among the people.

Dr. Burlingham, having an engagement to tie the nuptial knot, and knowing that the bridal party were anxiously waiting for his appearance, was called upon to say a few words before departing upon his mission. He said: This enterprise which is before us shows for itself. He congratulated Mr. Johnson upon the success which had attended his efforts.

Dr. Luther, editor of the Central Baptist, responded to a call, and expressed his gratification at the establishment of a depository of Baptist books in the city for supplying the wants of a vast district of country. There is, strictly speaking, no publishing house in the city. There are three publishing cities—Philadelphia, New York and Boston—and if he wanted to bring out a book he should have it published in one of those cities.

Mr. Sheldon, of New York, made a few happy remarks. He congratulated the Baptists of St. Louis upon this movement, and rejoiced that in this great city, so favorably located, such an enterprise had been established. The want of the present time is an abundance of good books. He hoped the time is not far distant when a publishing house would be established in the city. This branch of the depository will be extended in a short time. There ought to be one in San Francisco and one in Kansas City.

Rev. Mr. Pitts made a speech, in course of which he objected to the mixture of Presbyterian and Baptist books. He was pretty hard on charity theological students, and said they seldom paid in good work for the expense of educating them for the ministry.

Dr. Osborn said he looked upon this establishment as a great success. A want was felt for such a thing. A central point was needed around which to gather. When the proposition was made he looked upon it as the most important thing that could be done. It is a place where the ministers can meet and hold intercourse. He did not agree with Mr. Pitts in regard to the publications of other denominations. Whatever is good and right in principle can be adopted and used with propriety. We sing the Methodist hymns of John Wesley, although we could not admit Mr. Wesley into our church.

Rev. Mr. Kendrick expressed his gratification at the establishment of the depository, and hoped it would be enlarged to meet the growing wants of the West.

Mr. Johnson stated, in conclusion, that the rooms were designed as a meeting place for the friends, and he cordially invited them to make them their headquarters.

After prayer by Rev. Mr. Luther, the meeting adjourned.

There are over ten thousand volumes in the store, and new publications will be regularly received from the Philadelphia and other houses.

The New York Albion establishment has been sold by Mr. W. H. Morrill to Mr. Kinahan Cornwallis. The consideration paid is said to be something over $30,000, and it is understood the new proprietor will make some important changes in the character of the sheet.

Capt. Burton has a new book of travels in press in London, under the title of "Explorations of the Highlands of Brazil," with a full account of the gold and diamond mines; also of "Canoeing down one thousand and five hundred miles of the great river San Francisco, from Sabarato the Sea."

The steel and iron rails now being laid on the Hartford, New Haven and Springfield road, are put together by splices, the same as used in foreign countries, the expense being about double that of putting them together in the old way. To equip the road entire, 15,000 tons of rail will be required, at a cost of $125 a ton. Three years will be required to finish the improvement.

The compartment carriage in use in England, it is asserted, furnishes less privacy than the long American car. The six persons closely shut up in a small compartment are, during a long journey, forced into acquaintance, while there is no public conveyance in which two friends can converse so freely without observation, or pass the day in such actual retirement, as in the long car containing one hundred passengers.

The Cuban members of the Polytechnic college in Philadelphia, recently displayed the republican flag. It consists of five stripes—three blue and two white—running longitudinally, and of a bright red equilateral triangle, the base of which forms the pole end of the flag, and is as long as the flag is wide, while the apex terminates in the middle of the central blue stripe. This red field bears in its center a large white, five-pointed star.

Christian Gottfried Ehrenberg, the great German naturalist, especially distinguished by his investigations through the microscope, celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as Doctor of Medicine, at Berlin, Prussia, on the 5th of November. Congratulatory addresses were presented to him in behalf of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Pharmaceutical Association, and other learned societies, and a poem by Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Bourgouzs, the new gas light just introduced into France, is described as follows: Coal gas, intimately mixed with atmospheric air, is urged by gentle pressure through a tube, and passes through a metal plate full of little holes. Many jets are thus formed, which after being driven through a fine tissue of platinum wire, are lighted. The platinum soon becomes white hot, and so brilliant that the eye can hardly bear it. One cubic meter of gas is consumed per hour.

At one time a woman could hardly walk through the streets of San Francisco without having every one pause to gaze on her, and a child was so rare, that once in a theater in the same city, where a woman had taken her infant, when it began to cry, just as the orchestra commenced to play, a man in the pit cried out, "Stop those fiddles and let the baby cry. I haven't heard such a sound for ten years." The audience applauded this sentiment, the orchestra stopped, and the baby continued its performance, amid unbounded enthusiasm.

The English Goverment seems to have profited by its experience in dealing with the untractable Fenians. No efforts were made to suppress the demonstration in memory of the men who were executed at Manchester, and so the celebration passed off quietly. Interference by the consiabulary or police would doubtless have been followed by a popular tumult, bloodshed, and the revival of passions that, allowed vent, will die out in time, as Fenianism itself disorganizes. The best way to keep such subterranean fires alive is to attempt to smother them.

A new method of converting reciprocating into rotary motion by means of a treadle has recently been exhibited in Boston. The invention, which also overcomes the liability of stopping upon a dead center, produces a rotary motion from the treadle by means of two flexible connecting rods, combined with two reciprocating pawls acting in concert. The pawls are so arranged that the slightest movement of the treadle produces a rotary motion to the shaft carrying the driving pulley. It is stated that this apparatus enables the operator to change the motion and position of the foot at will, thus greatly relieving the monotonous and constant vibration of the body, as well as decreasing the muscular effort.

The game laws of the different States are far from being uniform. This conflict of regulations, it is asserted, produces great confusion and renders ineffective the attempt to enforce the statute against selling game out of season. For it may be insisted that the bird was shot in a neighboring district, where the pursuit of quails and pheasants is allowed. As an illustration of the discrepancy between the rules on this subject, quails are protected in Massachusetts from January 1st to September 1st; in Connecticut from February 1st to October 1st; in New York from January 1st to October 20th; in New Jersey from January 10th to November 1st, and in Pennsylvania from January 1st to October 1st. Hence sportsmen are agitating the question of a general national convention to recommend a uniform law.

The opening of the Suez Canal, which is to take place shortly, will tend to restore the trade of the Orient to its ancient channels. Venice and Genoa, and the other Mediterranean ports, might feel the glow of commercial rivalry again, and look for argosies as rich as ever anchored at their wharves, were it not that almost cotemporaneous with the opening of this great ship canal will be completed the iron band across the American Continent, which is to bring the productive wealth of the East nearer to the doors of Western Europe in point of time than it can be brought by way of the Red Sea and the Mediterranean. The two events will be the great commercial feature of the year 1869. Their effect upon the traffic of the world cannot be anticipated, but that it will produce great changes in the avenues of trade is beyond a doubt.

A LAST WORD.

The Ledger of Monday used these words:

"If it (the $52,000) is the property of the State, and held by an attorney for the State."

To this we responded by giving to the public a statement furnished us by the respectable law firm having the matter in charge, which statement we believed to be true, and to be satisfactory, and upon it based our acquittal of the State authorities.

The Ledger of Friday asks:

"Does the APPEAL mean to say that the 'reputable firm' is acting for both plaintiff and defendant—for debtor and creditor—for Mr. Rutter and the State at the same time?"

We did not so much as hint or suggest such a thing. We therefore asked the Ledger to say if it could allege anything criminal on the part of this law firm touching this $52,000? To which it responded by the following, among other sentences:

"Let it (the APPEAL) make a full statement of facts, as it has the opportunity to do, being in the confidence of the firm, in justification of the firm, if he thinks it needs justification, and we will do all justice by the retraction of any error."

We do not think the "law firm" need any justification at our hands. Finding it impossible to bring the Ledger to any explicit charge or statement, and believing that a construction injurious to the "law firm" has been put upon the remarks of the Ledger, by the public, we turn the matter over to the gentlemen of the "law firm" so often alluded to, and ask them, if possible, to break the seal of professional silence and further satisfy the public as to the $52,000 in question.

MEMPHIS AND YAZOO CITY.

The late letter of Maj. WICKS, President of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, to the Chamber of Commerce, but proves what has long been the conviction of many of our sagacious men, that Memphis must hereafter chiefly look to the South and West for her trade. North and East of us, capital and railroads are gradually turning to the Atlantic the trade which we once controlled. New York and Boston are stretching out their arms toward the South and West, and Norfolk, Charleston and Savannah are more busy than before the war. Though Memphis may thus lose a portion of her legitimate trade in the directions indicated, (North and East), she may regain from the South and West much more than will balance her losses; and, therefore, we may regard this whole commercial movement as ominous of good—for commerce is the healthy daughter of peace and confidence. If Boston and New York are thus covetous of the trade of the South and West, it is not likely that their merchants and manufacturers will be disposed to see continued that despotic rule which has been so oppressive and irritating to those whose trade they are seeking. We repeat, therefore, that the auspices for peace and prosperity are promising. At least, it is as pleasant to think so, and hope for a brighter future, as to despair. Nothing will so surely draw to us the capital of the Northern and Eastern cities, from Boston to Savannah, as the accumulation here of the products of the country around us; and as the extent of our commercial influence is limited on the North and East, it is evidently our plain policy to increase our trade from the South and West. We regard the road, on the west, as paramount to all others in importance; but, next to that, comes the road down the Tallahatchie and Yazoo valleys. No region in all the world produces a finer article of cotton, save the Sea Island, and none can produce more to the acre. In 1866 the Agricultural Bureau thus spoke of this famous valley, lying between Vicksburg and Memphis: "Not one-fifth of that richest of all regions has yet been opened to the sun. The grand old forests stand there as when DeSoto explored the country; and millions of acres of the best cotton land on the globe are still in the wilderness. Here was the widest portion of that 'inland sea' which once occupied the lower valley of the Mississippi. Its exceeding fatness is Nile-like, without the aridity of Egypt. In fineness its soil resembles the ocean's bed, and is enriched by the opulence of the sea and the munificence of the land, in the dead organisms of former prolific and vigorous life, which abundantly furnish the lime, potash and other elements required by cotton." Such is this famous valley south of us. It is an area averaging about fifty miles in width and one hundred and fifty in length; and is about as large as Massachusetts. No country on the globe can sustain a denser population, for it produces in unlimited abundance all the fruits and cereals, while it is the heart of the American cotton region. It can feed, clothe and enrich two millions of souls. This is the country for Memphis to draw upon, and whenever she aids any enterprise it should be this one, which will so well repay any outlay. In 1859 a survey was made for a railroad leading from a point on the Mississippi and Tennessee road, through Tallahatchie, Carroll, Holmes and Yazoo counties. Such a region for a road has never been found elsewhere, in the South or West. For forty miles, as we learn from the gentleman who has charge of it, the grade no where exceeded ten feet to the mile, and the average was about four feet.

There is yet another thing worthy of note, as connected with this project. We noticed, a few weeks ago, that the Vicksburg Times was urging Vicksburg merchants to ship their cotton up the river to the North. It argued that they would get a better price for it than if sent to New Orleans; and a correspondent, signing himself "Masthead," stated that he had spent several days in Memphis, in the month of October, and found cotton bringing a better price here than in New Orleans. The Times has several editorials of the same tenor; and they are in keeping with the general facts as regards the cause of trade. It is Northward; and our policy is to invite to Memphis all the trade we can from the South and West. The Yazoo region does not now send a bale here, while it would send thousands if this road were built. More than that, this trade will never be directed from us. When here, it will, like trade from the West, feed our other roads; and, indeed, in coming here, it will pass over our great Southern line. This project has lately been revived; and we see from our exchanges in the country through which it will run, that the people are as determined to have it as in 1859, when they subscribed to it more than $2,000 000

We congratulate them on their resolve to do the chief thing toward improving their section. Such a spirit never dies out, but always finds food for encouragement. Let our Yazoo Valley friends but do all they can, and they will be astonished to find how much that is. If they will, we can promise them Memphis will not be remiss in her duty; and then we may confidently hope soon to see citizens from Yazoo City leave home in the morning and sup in Memphis the same day.

THE KILLING OF H. RIVES POLLARD.

Full Particulars of the Affair.

Arrest of Grant—He is Cheered by the People.

Excitement in Richmond.

The Richmond Journal, of Tuesday morning, gives the following particulars of the killing of H. Rives Pollard, in that city, on Tuesday evening, by James Grant, with the testimony concerning the case before the Coroner, says:

"Our city was, this morning, the theater of a most bloody tragedy. Mr. H. Rives Pollard, the editor of the Southern Opinion, and formerly editor of the Richmond Examiner, was shot and instantly killed, about nine o'clock, in front of his office, on Fourteenth street, near the corner of Main, by some person concealed in the second story of the building opposite, which is used as the banking house of Wm. B. Isaacs & Co.

"So far as we are able to gather from the statements of several parties, some of whom saw the shooting, it occurred in this manner: Mr. Pollard, accompanied by Mr. J. Marshall Hanna, came to the city this morning from his residence in the country, on Grove road, in his carriage, and halted at the corner of Main and Fourteenth street, in front of his office. Both alighted, and Mr. Pollard started up Fourteenth street toward the door of the office. Mr. Hanna remained behind to secure the horse. As Pollard approached the office entrance and was about half way between it and Main street, he was fired upon from the second-story window almost directly opposite. He fell to the side-walk, and policeman Moore and Capt. Chakley, who were some distance off, ran to his assistance. They got him up, and in carrying him up the stairway leading to his office in the second-story of the building, he gasped his last.

"His body was laid out on a mattress in the editorial room, and was viewed by Coroner Little, who examined the wounds, and said he had been hit by nine buckshot—one in the neck, six in the shoulder, one in the forehead, one passed through the heart, and two through other parts of the body. A number of the members of the city press, and several of the friends of the deceased, were in the room while this examination was being made. The features of the corpse were rigid, and the face was pale but placid. Across the forehead was a line of blood, which had flowed from the wound in the head. His coat was somewhat torn about the body and rent with shot holes, and his other clothes and under-garments were quite bloody. The Coroner announced that he would hold an inquest on the body at 12 o'clock.

"Detectives Craddock and Knox, as soon as it was known that the shooting had been done from the window opposite, entered the house and forced their way up stairs. They found the door of a room locked, and knocking violently at it, were asked by a voice from within, 'Is that you, Bob?' Mr. Craddock answered, 'Yes.' The reply was, 'You must force the door, then, for it is locked and I haven't got the key.' They broke open the door, and found young James Grant the sole occupant of the room. He said, "I surrender," and handed over a six-shooting revolver to the officers, none of the chambers of which had been discharged. They found a double-barreled gun in the room, one barrel of which was still loaded. The other had the appearance of having been recently fired off. The officers brought young Grant out, when the crowd thoughtlessly cheered him. He was taken to the stationhouse, but neither admitted nor denied the responsibility of the bloody deed.

"A large and excited crowd of people gathered around the scene of the homicide, which increased as the facts were spread through the city, until the streets in the vicinity were completely blocked up with people—mostly the better class of our citizens—from scarcely any of whom, we regret to say, did we hear a word of sympathy for the slain editor, or the least condemnation of the deed, though a few denounced the manner in which it was done, and thought it seemed too much like secret assassination and fear on the part of the concealed perpetrator. It matters not how much Mr. Pollard may have incurred the hatred of the community by his course in publishing the scandals of the town, and making his paper the vehicle for abusing private character and attacking private virtue, still he should have had some warning of the contemplated attack, and an opportunity afforded to defend himself. It will not do to cheer and approve such deeds, no matter who their victims may be, unless we, as a people, intend to countenance and applaud assassination. Others may resort to like methods of wreaking vengeance for insults or grievances either real or imaginary. A healthy public opinion will not justify any such acts, and when the second, sober thought comes to calm men's minds, they will see the danger of applauding deeds like this to which H. Rives Pollard has fallen a victim. However much people may think he deserved death, the manner of his taking off cannot be justified.

"The cause of this terrible affair is believed to have originated in a publication which appeared in the Southern Opinion of Saturday last, reflecting upon the family of Mr. Grant, of this city, and especially upon the sister of young James Grant, who, it is supposed, fired the fatal shot. It had been the rumor of the town for several days back that a hostile meeting was in preparation, and everybody was on the tip-toe of expectation, but as it was known that Mr. Grant was in the city, and had not called on Mr. Pollard for a retraction of the article, it was supposed that the matter had been indefinitely postponed, and people had almost concluded that it would end as most of these things terminate, when the announcement that Pollard was killed startled the community.

"Mr. Pollard was a young man of good appearance and very decided character, about thirty-five years of age. When the war broke out Mr. Pollard was news editor of the Baltimore Sun, but strongly espoused the Confederacy, came South, and linked his fortunes with John M. Daniel, of the Examiner, who frequently said he considered himself one of the best 'news editors' in the country. Like all men of his rude nature, he had many enemies, and if his friends were few, they were firm and devoted. Hatreds should be buried in his tomb, and the memories of friendship alone survive.

"Mr. Pollard was well armed, with two revolvers, a couple of derringers and a bowie knife, but this was no unusual armament for him. He expected an attack from several parties whom he had assailed in the last of his paper, and who had threatened his life.

"James Grant, the accused, is the oldest son of William H. Grant, tobacconist, residing on Clay, street, between Tenth and Eleventh, is about twenty-five years of age, of low stature, blue eyes and light hair, and is well known in musical circles as an amateur singist. When the war commenced he was a cadet at Lexington, and became a member of the Caskie Rangers, of this city, and during the war acted as courier for Gen. Jeb. Stuart. He is at present engaged with his father in the tobacco business."

—George Mullengrosh was burned to death on Wednesday, about 11 o'clock, near Glendale, eight miles below Pittsburg, under peculiar circumstances. The starch factory at that place caught fire, and was completely destroyed. He was asleep in the building, but was awakened by the smoke. He succeeded in getting out of the building, but returned to get some wearing apparel, and perished in the flames.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, November 30.—The new postal convention just concluded with the United Kingdom, which goes into operation January 1, 1869, establishes the following rates of international postage: 1st. Letters, 12½ per single rate of 15 grammes, ½ ounce in the United States, and 6 pence, 12 cents in the United Kingdom; prepayment is optional, but a fine of 5 cents in the United States and 2 pence, 4 cents in the United Kingdom will, however, be levied and collected in additional to the postage on each unpaid or not sufficiently prepaid letter received by one country from another. 2d. Newspapers, 2 cents each in the United States and 1 penny each in the United Kingdom, if not exceeding four ounces in weight. 3d. Books, including printed papers of all kinds, and patterns or samples of merchandise, including seeds and grain, when not exceeding one ounce in weight, 2 cents in the United States and 1 penny in the United Kingdom; where exceeding one ounce and not exceeding two ounces in weight, 5 cents in the United States, and two pence in the United Kingdom. When exceeding two ounces and not exceeding four ounces, six cents in the United States and three pence in the United Kingdom. When exceeding four ounces weight, an additional rate of six cents in the United States and three pence in the United Kingdom will be charged for every additional four ounces or fraction thereof. The postage chargeable as above on all articles of printed matter, including patterns or samples of merchandise, must be fully prepaid at the mailing office in either country, and is in full to destination, the receiving country delivering without any charge whatever.

The official report of Gen. Rousseau, as delivered to the War Department, does not contain the paragraph which appears in a recently published synopsis, with the heading of a specimen of a martyr-monger, in which Dr. Southwork is represented as saying to Gen. Rousseau that his (Southwork's) committee would advise the negroes to vote at the recent election, adding, "Let them be slaughtered—the more there are killed the better it will be for our party."

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 29.—Attorney General Evarts has forwarded to the President his opinion on the operation of the eight hour system in regard to the compensation of employees. He says the law being silent on the subject of compensation, government officials are at liberty to use their own discretion in the matter; but that the rule of equality which heretofore regulated the wages of government employees, requires that they shall receive the same compensation for their labor as is paid in private establishments in the vicinity. The law of 1868 does not fix the wages, nor does it require the government to pay ten hours wages for eight hours work. If citizens adopted such a course the government must do the same; but as the law now stands it is left to the option of the government officials to pay the same wages as when men worked ten hours a day, or to reduce the compensation in proportion to the reduction in hours of labor.

The miseries of the atrocious murder in Ulster county is cleared up; the body found proves to be that of Sophia Smith, wife of Jeremiah Smith, a half crazy, illiterate and brutal man, residing near Mertseburg, Sullivan county. They had not lived happily together and the murder is supposed to be the sequel of a bitter quarrel concerning property. The supposed murderer is at large and has with him, if he has not made way with them also, his three children. The police are on the track.

The registration of this city for the charter election is 173,693, or 4313 over the Presidential election.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, November 29.—Gen. John O'Neil was unanimously elected President of the Fenian Brotherhood at their Congress in this city. The delegates pledged their entire support to the plans submitted by him, and resolved to use their influence to stop all recriminations and denunciations among Irishmen laboring for the independence of Ireland. After a harmonious session the Congress adjourned this morning.

The delegation of the Philadelphia Board of Trade leave on Monday for Cincinnati, to attend the first business meeting of the National Board of Trade held since its organization, accompanied by representatives of the Philadelphia Commercial Exchange, and delegations from Baltimore, Md., and Wilmington, Del.

FOREIGN.

LIVERPOOL, November 29.—A dispatch from Gibraltar reports that the American brig Steven Duncan, which sailed from New York, October 16 for Marseilles, lies stranded near Cape Spartel. No further particulars received.

PARIS, November 28.—The editor of Revell has been sentenced to two months imprisonment, with a fine of 2000 francs, the editors of Treture and Lavenier to pay fines 2000 francs each, and the editors of Temps and Journal de Paris to pay a fine of 1000 francs each, for publishing articles encouraging subscriptions for a monument to Baudin.

Bourse quiet. Rentes 70f 45c.

BUCHAREST, November 28.—Prince Charles of Roumania, in opening the Session Chambers here, said the maintainance of neutrality was a duty which his government had always observed. The foreign relations of the country were on an excellent footing, and he had reason to believe the pending negotiations would result in a satisfactory convention with Austria and Prussia.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 28—Evening.—Five Twenties closed at 79½.

LONDON, November 29.—The Conservatives have carried the southeast division of West Reading, Yorkshire, and also the western division of Surrey, thus reducing the Liberal majority. The late election have been in favor of the Conservatives, who have always had disproportionate strength in these counties. Their gains in the present instances are also attributable to the indifference of the Liberals, who were rendered careless by the heavy majority they had secured during the first week of the election. In the manufacturing districts the bitter spirit of the Orange organization was enlisted against the candidates who favored disestablishment. The entrance of this element into the strife did not fail in some quarters to lead to mob law and intimidation of voters. The tories are charged with the responsibility for these excesses, and the Liberals have suffered so severely from them that it has become almost a duit in favor of voting by ballot.

Much indignation has been caused among British ship owners by the order that the Alabama treaty does not allow claims of Englishmen based on decisions of American prize courts to be reopened before the Commission. The Shipping Gazette says such provision is contrary to precedents established by Americans themselves, and excludes claims undoubtedly founded; and the Gazette declares if this report is true, the Convention is a capitulation, and Parliament will never sanction it.

A writer in the Observer takes the same view of the subject, and discusses it at length, citing many authorities.

The Times and Paris correspondents of other London papers, have lately given currency to rumors that the health of the Emperor is failing, and public confidence has in consequence been somewhat disturbed. These rumors have been officially contradicted from Paris, yet it is well understood that without positive illness the Emperor declines to take his usual active exercise, and shows signs of decaying strength and mental apathy. The policy of his government seems just now to be to make a demonstration of vigor against the opposition, to render the latter unpopular and to preserve the morale of the departmental officials.

ANTWERP, November 28.—Petroleum closed at 55½@56 francs for standard white.

HAVRE, November 28.—Cotton closed firmer.

The apprehensions of bloodshed in Spain are increasing. It is thought that a collision between the monarchists and republicans will be the inevitable result of the excited political contest now in progress. Meantime the patriotic fervor of the nation is unabated. A dispatch from Madrid states that the subscriptions by the people to the national loan now amount to 319 000 000 reals.

VIENNA, November 29.—The Austrian Government has fitted out and dispatched from Triest an expedition which will sail around the world. It is under command of Karl Sherzer. The objects of the enterprise are to introduce the products of Austrian industry to distant markets, and extend the commerce of the Empire. The expedition is under special instructions to visit the principal ports of China and Japan, and to proceed thence to California, and cruise along the South American coast.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, November 29.—The river is rising, with six feet nine inches in the canal.

Departed—Minneda and Westmoreland. Arrived—P. W. Strader

ST. LOUIS, November 29.—Arrived—City of Cairo, Pauline Carroll. No departures.

The river is declining but there is plenty of water above and below.

CINCINNATI, November 29.—Arrived—Will S. Hays, Memphis.

CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, S. C., November 29.—The contested municipal election case, after trial for two weeks, was concluded last night by the election being declared irregular and void, by a vote of twelve yeas to three nays. This decision was rendered by the present City Council, of which a large majority are Republicans. The effect will be to continue in power the present City Government until a new election is ordered by the Legislature.

POUGHKEEPSIE.

POUGHKEEPSIE, November 29.—Early this a.m., a man, supposed to be Smith, the Ulster county murderer, crossed the ferry from Newport, followed an hour afterward by two detectives who were on his track and were confident he was the guilty party and that they would soon arrest him.

PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 29.—The Third Presbyterian Church, Rev. S. F. Noble, pastor, was dedicated to-day—dedicatory sermon by Rev. Dr. Riddle. There were present Rev. H. Kendall and Rev. Herrick John, former pastors of the Church. The edifice cost about $200,000, and is the finest in the city.

MARRIED.

ANDERSON—IRBY—By the Rev. J. W. Bates, on the 26th of November, at the residence of Dr. J. W. Irby, Mr. J. M. ANDERSON and Miss LOU. W. IRBY—all of Panola county, Miss. No cards.

ATTENDANTS—Misses M. C. Irby, Anna P. Irby, Ida Irby, and Ida Williams. Messrs. J. T. Irby, J. M. Anderson, J. F. McKinney, and Waller Taylor.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

WALT—The friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Walt are invited to attend the funeral of their infant son, This Monday Morning, at 10 o'clock, from their residence, 316 Adams street. Carriages at Flaherty's.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

To day is the feast of "St. Andrews," one reverently observed by all Scotchmen and their descendants the world over.

St. Andrew was the son of Jonas, a fisherman of Bathsaida, in Galilee, and was the brother of Simon Peter, but whether elder or younger we are not informed in Scripture. He was one of the two disciples of John the Baptist, to whom the latter exclaimed, as he saw Jesus pass by: "Behold the Lamb of God!" On hearing these words, we are informed that the two individuals in question followed Jesus, and having accosted him, were invited by the Savior to remain with him for that day. Thereafter, Andrew went in quest of his brother Simon Peter, and brought him to Christ, a circumstance which has invested the former apostle with a special pre-eminence.

After the Ascension, the name of St. Andrew is not mentioned in the New Testament, but he is believed to have traveled as a missionary through Asiatic and European Scythia; to have afterwards passed through Thrace, Macedonia, and Epirus into Achaia; and at the city of Patra, in the last named region, to have suffered martyrdom about 70 A D. The Roman proconsul, it is said, caused him to be first scourged and then crucified. The latter punishment he underwent in a peculiar manner, being fastened by cords instead of nails to the cross, to produce a lingering death by hunger and thirst; whilst the instrument of punishment itself, instead of being T-shaped, was in the form of an X, or what is termed a cross decussate. We are further informed that a Christian lady of rank, named Maximela, caused the body of St. Andrew to be embalmed and honorably interred; and that in the earlier part of the fourth century, it was removed by the Emperor Constantine to Byzantium, or Constantinople, where it was deposited in a church erected in honor of the Twelve Apostles. The history of the relics does not end here, for we are informed that, about thirty years after the death of Constantine, in 368 A.D., a pious Greek monk, named Regulus or Rule, conveyed the remains of St. Andrew to Scotland, and there deposited them on the eastern coast of Fife, where he built a church, and where afterwards arose the renowned city and cathedral of St. Andrew. Whatever credit may be given to this legend, it is certain that St. Andrew has been regarded, from time immemorial, as the patron saint of Scotland; and his day, the 30th of November, is a favorite occasion of social and national reunion, amid Scotchmen residing in England and other places abroad.

The St. Andrew's Society of this city will install the officers recently elected, for the ensuing year, this evening. This day, indeed, regulates the whole calendar for the commencement of the ecclesiastical year is regulated by the feast of St. Andrew, the nearest Sunday to which, whether before or after, constitutes the first Sunday in Advent, or the period of four weeks which heralds the approach of Christmas. St. Andrew's Day is thus sometimes the last festival in the Christian year.

THEATRICAL.

The "Lottery of Life"—The "White Fawn" To-Night.

The past week at the New Memphis Theater was the most profitable of the season. The management, the moment Mr. Coulduck's engagement ended, resolved upon the introduction of the novelties and attractions it had promised the public at the commencement of the season. Brougham's Lottery of Life was consequently put upon the boards, with fine and new scenic effects and the most accurate costuming. The full strength of the Company was called into requisition, and so creditably did one and all acquit themselves that they substantiated our already expressed opinion that they form the best, the most complete and the most harmonious Company that has ever occupied the boards of that house. From the first the actors and actresses were au fait, not only in their several characters, but in that which is most difficult to be grasped, the spirit of the author. With the same skill and nicety of delineation as characterized Mr. Brougham's production of this play in New York, this company brought out the lights and shades in detail, and grouping them, completed a series of pictures such as are impossible to be seen elsewhere, except in the streets and purlieus of New York itself. Mr. Hamilton especially distinguished himself as "O'Halleran," a character Mr Brougham intended for himself, and which he performed with a nonchalance and ease that was most prominent in Mr. Hamilton's rendition. Mr Wade and Lanegan, deservedly old favorites, sustained themselves, and in the "Gideon band" performance, assisted by Dovey (a capital actor in his line) and others of the company, was uproaringly "jolly." Mrs. Cline deserves especial mention. She surpassed herself in a role as difficult as it is new to the stage—a role in which she was expected to preserve the truth, the constancy and devotion of a wife, while engaged in a "concert saloon" as the leader among a party of unfortunate women (whose employment is of a questionable character), leading others into the pitfalls in which they revel themselves. Mrs. Cline, archly and with spirit, presented a characterization that would do credit to any soubrette now known to the country. Others of the company might be mentioned, but those given, and the remarks above, will indicate the general excellence of a performance never before surpassed in Memphis.

To-night, for the first time, we are to have the "White Fawn," with all the original scenic effects, costumes, corypheés, music and other attractions that achieved for it a run of over two hundred nights in New York. It is altogether spectacular, with just plot enough to impart point and piquancy to what otherwise would be a surfeit, an excess of theatrical, not gorgeous effects. Something akin to the "Black Crook," we expect the "White Fawn" will prove as attractive to the public of Memphis, and as remunerative to the management as that spectacle did last season. Enterprise of such a character as is manifest in the productions of the management of our theater so far, to be continued, must be promptly and fully patronized and made remunerative. We hope that full houses, every night, will attest the appreciation by the public of the company and the managers of the theater, an appreciation that is on the lips of all who have heretofore enjoyed the admirable performances at the New Memphis.

RECKLESS SHOOTING.—A pistol shot was fired yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock from the door of a tailor shop, on the west side of Main, between Union and Gayoso streets. The ball crashed through a show window immediately over the heads of three ladies who were walking on the opposite side of the street. Diligent inquiry by the police failed to elicit the author of the reckless shot, who should have been severely punished for his wanton and cowardly act.

"WHY AM I A CATHOLIC?"

Dr. Rogers' Lecture Last Night.

The Greenlaw Opera House was never better filled than it was last night, to listen to the lecture of the Rev. Dr. Rogers, on the subject, "Why am I a Catholic."

People from every class and religion, had met on common ground to listen to the arguments he would bring forward in support of his late religious course. Not less than fifteen hundred people assembled to hear his discourse, and this immense audience was held spell-bound by the eloquence of the reverend gentleman for two hours.

The discourse was divided into five parts. The peroration alluded to the audience, the vastness of the subject upon which he was to speak, and the immensity of the number of the radiations from it, that would arise and present themselves to the consideration of the people who had assembled to hear.

The first argumentative point made by the reverend lecturer was the postulate "Jesus Christ is infallible; that He established a kingdom upon earth, and the necessity of a visible ecclesiastical union to vindicate this kingdom."

Secondly, the reverend gentleman made the point that St. Peter and his successors are the visible head of the Church; in support of which he quoted the sixteenth chapter of St. Matthew and the twenty-first of St. John.

The third point was the perpetuity of doctrine and of a higher degree of purity than any other institution or faith that had been handed down to us.

The fourth and concluding portion of the argument was, that THE CHURCH was more potent over humanity, in all conditions, than any other institution. In proof of this he cited the history of the revolutions and internecine wars of Mexico, France, etc, where, after the most bloody and terrific struggles, THE FAITH still existed and triumphed.

In conclusion the Reverend gentleman made a personal appeal to every one in the vast auditorium to examine his own heart, and act in accordance with the dictates of that conscience that God has given us to guide and direct our life. Citing examples of Godliness and holiness of life, he pointed out and spoke of the "Sisters of Charity" and of "Mercy," as bright and shining lights.

There was not a dry eye in the house at the conclusion of the Rev. Doctor's address, every one being more or less affected by his allusions to the time when "the blasts of war blew in our ears," and we have no hesitation in saying that the lecture decided many a one who was hitherto wavering. We understand that it will be published at length in a few days.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

At the present day it is simply a waste of time and space to argue, or bring forward proofs, of the utility or advantage of life insurance. The examples which we see around us daily of its beneficent workings, are witnesses louder than newspaper articles of the soundness of the principles upon which it is built, and the vast utility of it as an institution. The uncertainty of human life has been the theme of the teachings of Saints, sages, and moralists, from time immemorial. None can tell what an hour may bring forth. None can be certain, however healthy he may be, or however prosperous his affairs, of not being called away in a moment, and leaving those who are nearest and dearest to him to suffer a long life of penury and trouble through a negligence which has no excuse. Life insurance is obviously a duty then which every man should perform, and that immediately, for nothing is certain which is contingent upon life unless it is immediate. The choice of a company in which to insure is then of prime importance to every man, in order that the benefits of this act of insurance may accrue to those for whom they were intended, which would not be the case if the company were not solvent. We should in all candor recommend to one who has not already made his choice the PHŒNIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Hartford, Connecticut, of which Messrs. Nourse & Matthews are the general agents, No. 16 Jefferson street, Memphis. We make this recommendation for many reasons, chief of which is it is one of the oldest and strongest companies doing business in this country, and is strictly mutual in its plan, and its earnings, therefore, instead of being used to swell the dividends of stockholders, as is the case in all stock companies, are appropriated for the benefit of the assured in the reduction of their annual premiums.

"DE BAR'S OPERA HOUSE had a much larger attendance last evening than on any since the opening of the season. The White Fawn has many attractions, among which we witnessed the Shadow dance by Mlle Sands, who moves over the stage like a veritable shadow. The Pas de Duz of M'lle Diani and Mons. Marvig was loudly encored. The Water Nymph dance, in which M'lle Diani, Sands and Mons. Marvig, assisted by the corps de ballet, is a beautiful movement, displaying the "form divine" of each artist. The efforts of the evening which seemed to elicit the greatest amount of applause were the Hungarian Polka, by M'lle Diani, and the Matelos, by Mons. Marvig, concluding with the Can-Can a la American. The scenery throughout is very fine—much better last night than on its first appearance, and we learn that many scenes have just arrived and will be put on as the earliest moment it can be done. Mr. Whitman's great transformation scene is one of the most elaborate ever placed upon the stage. This has been conceded by all who have witnessed it."—St. Louis Democrat, Nov. 18, 1868.

The above spectacular piece so highly spoken of by the press of other cities will be presented during the coming week at the New Memphis Theater. To accommodate those who reside in the country special trains will be run on all the railroads leading in to Memphis, the trains arriving late in the evening and returning at the close of the performance.

PERSONAL.

Lt. Duncan, and other officers upon the staff of Gen. Gillem, passed down the river on the Julia Saturday night. The Doctor, who is a humorist and a reader of rare excellence, and who is the author of one of the best poems in the English language, entitled "The Proudest Record," originally appearing in the APPEAL, proposes to give a few readings in this city for the benefit of some charity before the season closes.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, November 28, 1868.

FINANCE.

The Scrip market has been active to-day, and large sales were made to tax payers, who are anxious to avoid the penalty of 2 per cent. which will accrue upon all taxes not paid by the 1st prox. This, with the 2 per cent. already assessed against those now in arrears, makes the penalty 5 per cent. on all taxes unpaid by the 1st of December. The City and County Tax Collectors were very busy to-day, and will no doubt be equally so on Monday, the last day of grace. Outside holders of City Scrip were offering to sell during the day at 84¾, but dealers were slow to buy at better than 83c. Several thousand dollars were taken by tax payers during the day at 85c, in sums ranging from a few dollars up to $800 and $1000.

Gold opened in New York at 134¼c, and closed at 135¼. Our dealers buy at New York rates and sell at 136@136¼c.

County warrants were equally active and prices were firm. Dealers bought at 75@76c, and sold at 77@80c. A sale of $3000 in various lots was reported by a broker at 80c during the day

Our banks were actively engaged during the day, and money remains moderately easy. Cotton Bills were not offered so liberally, but checking was heavy to cover purchases of cotton made during the past two or three days. Rates are quite irregular, ranging from ½ to ¾c discount buying, on New York and other points East, just as the supply happens to be large or small. New Orleans sight bills are taken at ½c discount. Selling on the latter point at par to ¼c discount, and on New York at par to $2 discount.

City Bonds are in good demand at 51c, with no sellers at that figure. The city sold several thousand dollars during the day at 51¼c. In other stocks or bonds there were no sales to report.

Police Scrip is in demand at 90c, with little on the market. Selling at 95c.

School Scrip is firm at 90c buying. Selling at 95c.

The receipts from customs and internal revenue during the present month have been rather small, while the expenditures of the Government have been about the same as last month. It will be remembered that over $23,000,000 in coin was taken from the vaults of the Treasury on the 1st inst., to pay the semi-annual interest on the 5 20 bonds; hence the public debt statement for the present month, to be issued on the 1st of December, will show an increase. The internal revenue receipts, it was anticipated, would increase toward the 1st of the month, but those from customs are not as heavy as last month.

The New York dealers in stocks are discussing amid great excitement a proposition to strike the shares of the Erie Railway from the list of stocks dealt in at the boards. On the one hand, many respectable brokers denounce the management of the road, and that of the stock in Wall street, as disreputable and fraudulent. They insist that there is no safety for dealers in buying or selling shares, the actual value of which is dependent on the secret and changing will of a party of speculators. On the other hand, it is said that this, though it may be more conspicuously and notoriously true of Erie shares than of others, is really true of many railway securities; that the same practices which have ruined thousands in Erie have, injured hundreds, at different times, in Michigan Southern, Northwestern and other railways, and that it is unfair to make an exception of a single stock.

The Comptroller of the Currency's recommendation, in his annual report, in favor of a return to specie payments, is certainly expressive of the general feeling on the subject. Among all classes the desirability and necessity of a currency redeemable in coin is at length becoming apparent, and in none more than among the mercantile community, and the planters of the South. The New York Bulletin, in an article upon gold fluctuations and resumption, thinks that this matter cannot be long delayed:

The operations and calculations of merchants are constantly impeded by the gold fluctuations, requiring, as they do, a corresponding adjustment in the value of goods. Now, the merchant is the foot-ball of the speculator, who takes advantage of every opportunity presented to advance or depress the gold premium, according as he believes business men may desire to buy or sell. Importers who postponed remittances of gold until after the November elections, found the premiums suddenly advanced by agencies that had the means and the ability to influence the market.

It has been estimated that the demand for gold for ordinary commercial purposes, including payments of customs, amounts to only $20,000,000 a week, yet this does not amount to one-twentieth part of the ordinary weekly transactions of the gold room. During the first fourteen days of November the transactions of the Gold Exchange Bank reached the enormous aggregate of $1,580,000,000. The whole stock of gold on the market is turned over several times a day, paying the ordinary commission of 1-16 or ⅛ of one per cent. for each transfer. The large profit arising from turning over this volume of specie furnishes an interest which will always oppose specie payments; but the demand for a return to a stable currency is becoming so urgent that some steps towards it cannot long be deferred. For not only is the importer interested in this question and many consumers of articles imported, but the Western farmers and the Southern cotton producers suffer from the uncertainties attending the transportation of their respective crops. Merchants are unwilling to draw bills against values which it is impossible to anticipate or calculate upon. Manufacturers are obliged to limit operations for the same causes, and capitalists turn their attention from ordinary business pursuits to real estate and government bond transactions, thus drawing off a large amount of capital from productive employment. In fine, we can have no permanent improvement in business upon the existing basis of an irredeemable and fluctuating currency.

COTTON.

The Liverpool dispatches of yesterday only came to-day. The opening dispatch announced that market quiet—Uplands, 11¼; Orleans, 11¼. It closed steady, with Middlings, 11¼; Orleans, 11¼; Uplands, to arrive, 10¾. Sales, 12,000 bales; week's sales, 109,000 bales—of which 22,000 was taken by exporters and 13,000 by speculators. Stock, 330,000 bales; stock afloat, 286,000—of which 90,000 is American. No Liverpool advices of to-day were received.

The New York market to-day opened quiet and weak. It was unchanged at noon, and at 1:30 p.m was dull and nominal—Low Middlings, 24c; Middlings, 25c; Orleans, 25½c; Good Middlings, 26½c. At the close it was quiet, but steady. Week's receipts, 7800 bales; gross, 22,000 bales. Week's sales, 22,000 bales. Exports since September 1st, 80,000 bales. Stock, 28,000 bales. Receipts at all United States ports, 76,000 bales.

The New Orleans market opened with a moderate demand and prices weak—Middlings, 23@23½c, and was unchanged at 2:30 p.m.

Our market has been quiet throughout and was weak, although the greater number of holders were not anxious to sell, as they preferred to await advices per cable. Among the sales were 12 bales Ordinary at 21½, 30 at 21½c, 14 at 21c; 64 and 60 Good Ordinary at 22c; 50, 65 and 8 Low Middlings at 22½c, 5 and 14 at 22½c, 171 and 90 at 22½c; 10, 30, 10, 17 and 9 Middlings at 23½c, 20 at 23c, 40 at 23½c; 36 Strict Middlings at 23½c, 14 at 23¾c; 4 Good Middlings at 24c. We quote as follows:

TRADE.

There is very little change to note in the general markets, except that the meat market is again on the decline, and prices are, as usual at this season, unsettled. The stock on hand is small, but it is fully, if not not more than equal to the demand. Corn has also declined materially since our last.

At the late Convention of Freight Agents at Chicago, the Committee on the Classification of Freight made a report, which was adopted, recommending that alcohol, high-wines, liquor and pure spirits, in casks or barrels, now in first class, be changed to third class, also omitting the words "duty paid." That whisky, duty paid, now in first class, be omitted, that being considered as liquor, and in third class. That clover seed be added to second class, and that grass seed, in third class, should read "except clover." That oils, except petroleum and carbon oils, in less than car loads, at owners risk of leakage, be placed in third class; the same, in carloads, in fourth class.

The Committee on Weights reported as follows:

Resolved, That the following be adopted as the minimum weights at which the articles named will be contracted and billed, subject to correction of actual weight when definitely ascertained: Highwines, per barrel, 360 lbs.; pork 320 and beef 340 per barrel; hams, per tierce, 470 lbs.; beef, per tierce, 450 lbs.; boxed meats, per box, 25 per cent. above net weight, as marked on box; lard, per tierce, 375 lbs.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather beautiful and springlike. The river is falling more rapidly at this point, but will not go down much if the weather remains pleasant, as the upper Mississippi is reported rising, and the swell from the Ohio will be felt in a few days. Arkansas is falling slowly with 6 or 7 feet to Little Rock. We have no change to report in White river. News from the Ohio and Mississippi at St. Louis will be found in our telegraphic columns.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The landing presented a quiet appearance yesterday.

A little propeller arrived from above and landed at the mouth of Wolf river yesterday. She had in tow a flatboat loaded with brick, apples, potatoes, etc.

The Ruth's freight and passenger receipts into New Orleans this trip will not be less than $20,000.

The towboat J. W. Garrett and barges passed down yesterday, and the towboat Beaver came in from below. She is still at the mouth of Wolf.

Capt. John Fenwick arrived in town yesterday.

We, in common with the numberless friends of Maj. and Mrs. Mart Walt, are grieved to learn of the death of their infant son, Dan Able Walt, which occurred yesterday in this city. The cares of this world were not to be known by him, and though his death has shut out the sunshine of a household, it was but the gate through which he entered into that glorious city with its streets of gold, where all is peace and love. His funeral takes place to-day.

The splendid passenger packet Natoma, Capt. Jim Lee, will back out on Tuesday for Friar's Point and way landings. Fields, Whitehead and Lee are her clerks.

The good steamer Romeo, Capt. Josh Throop, leaves to-day for Cairo and Evansville. She wants cotton and will put it through on time. Mr. Throop is her clerk.

Capt. Tom Bowman's new St. Francis came in from her first trip last night and had a good freight as well as being full of people. There is no telling how many bridal parties Mrs. Bowman will have to entertain during the balance of the season. The St. Francis leaves again to-morrow. Payne, Clark and Shell, are clerks.

The independent Des Arc, Capt. John D. Elliott, will back out to-day at 5 p.m. for Jacksonport and all way landings and will make quick time. In her office will be found Mr. Jo. Miller and Matt Glass, both popular officers.

The gay United States mail packet Ozark, Capt. Blasdell, with Outlaw at the desk, will leave at her usual hour to-day for all points on the Arkansas river, making close connection with the packets for Fort Smith. The Ozark is light and swift as well as a good passenger boat.

The H. M. Shreve is the regular Vicksburg packet to-day. She leaves this evening. Carter is master and Worsham is her chief clerk.

The City of Alton passed down yesterday with a fair trip.

A letter from Wheeling says, "the nail trade is perfectly demoralized." Barges are taking nails from there to Cincinnati at 17 cents per keg, and for New Orleans at 40 cents.

The contractor for removing the obstructions in the Tennessee river at the "Suck," eighteen miles from Chattanooga, has already commenced operations. About fifteen thousand feet of rock and earth are to be removed, and it is expected that the machines will remove four hundred feet each working day. The contractor is positive that the obstruction, so long the source of annoyance, will be entirely removed by the first of the new year.

M. O. L. Huffman, a well known pork packer of Louisville, and part owner, we believe, of a well known Louisville packet, died in that city on the 27th.

Boats still run between Dubuque and St. Paul. They are few in number and are well patronized. A cold snap will wind them up at an early moment.

There will be a large run of coal during the present rise, from Pittsburg, probably the largest of the season.

Capt. Claycomb is in Louisville, negotiating for the purchase of the Argonaut No. 2, for the Memphis and Pine Bluff trade.

The Cumberland is rising, with 9 feet on the Shoals.

The popular and reliable U. S. mail packet Liberty, Capt. Rice, will leave as usual to-morrow for all points on White river. She makes all connections. Milt. Harry and Charley Sharpe are her clerks.

The elegant Mississippi, Capt. Nat. Green, Clerks Creighton and Langlois, will be found at the landing this morning, and will load to leave on Wednesday for New Orleans, Cotton shippers, give the Mississippi all of your cotton bound South.

The Belle Memphis of the packet line leaves at 4 p.m. to-day for Cairo and St. Louis, connecting with the Northern and Eastern trains. John Crane is her popular master, and Blenker is treasurer.

The St. Louis Democrat says of the Great Republic and the attempt to sell her: The attendance on board the Great Republic at Carondelet yesterday was meager. There were present, with a few others, Captains John N. Bofinger, John A. Duble, H. H. Symmes, Charles A. Ferris, W. B. Donaldson, T. Singer, and Messrs. Geo. H. Ross, P. P. Manion, and Messrs. W. H. Brown and Jo. Haig of Pittsburg. Messrs. Morgan and A. N. Smith, United States marshals, were present, and the former read the order of sale, and stated the terms—half cash, half in six months, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and announced the only reservation to be the bar furniture and fixtures. A bid was asked, and after a few moments Capt. Symmes said, to start her anyhow, he would say $25,000. The auctioneer said, the bid is not accepted—it was too little; the boat was not to be given away. Capt. Bofinger addressed the auctioneer, and would like to be informed if there was a "limit on it." If so, he would like to understand it. "Well," said Symmes, "will thirty thousand do ye? I bid that sum." Lawyer Rankin, of great legal acumen in steamboat and other matters, was present, and was consulted by the United States officers in private as to the course to be pursued, and Mr. Smith was instructed to say that a bid of $50,000 would be entertained, but no less, and Capt. Bofinger remarked, "I'll bet you don't get that bid from me." To shorten the story, after vainly endeavoring to get more bids, or a bid of $50,000, another consultation was held in the hall of the steamboat, and Mr. Smith came out and stated that the sale would not proceed, and the company departed.

The steamer cost $200,000, and is only about two years old. If Capt. Symmes gets her for the thirty thousand, it will be a great reduction on the original cost of this palatial steamer.

We have little to say of this remarkable sale, or attempt to sell a steamboat. The fact is that Messrs. Symmes, Rea and Bofinger went down to purchase the boat in conjunction, and they think they have her. They last evening tendered the cash to the United States Marshal, who refused to accept, saying that he will make return to court this morning, and then answer.

Commissioner's Notice.

Wm. F. Mellen, Trustee, and the United States and others, against The New Orleans and Ohio Railroad Company and Others.

HAVING been appointed by the Hon. Bland Ballard, Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Kentucky, a Special Commissioner in the above style case, I will be found at the landing this morning, and will load to leave on Wednesday for New Orleans, Cotton shippers, give the Mississippi all of your cotton bound South.

The Belle Memphis of the packet line leaves at 4 p.m. to-day for Cairo and St. Louis, connecting with the Northern and Eastern trains. John Crane is her popular master, and Blenker is treasurer.

The St. Louis Democrat says of the Great Republic and the attempt to sell her: The attendance on board the Great Republic at Carondelet yesterday was meager. There were present, with a few others, Captains John N. Bofinger, John A. Duble, H. H. Symmes, Charles A. Ferris, W. B. Donaldson, T. Singer, and Messrs. Geo. H. Ross, P. P. Manion, and Messrs. W. H. Brown and Jo. Haig of Pittsburg. Messrs. Morgan and A. N. Smith, United States marshals, were present, and the former read the order of sale, and stated the terms—half cash, half in six months, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and announced the only reservation to be the bar furniture and fixtures. A bid was asked, and after a few moments Capt. Symmes said, to start her anyhow, he would say $25,000. The auctioneer said, the bid is not accepted—it was too little;
